

Four stages.
Five days.
More than just a race.

Accommodations

Accommodations

Hotel accommodations in the Westfjords are limited, but camping space is available for all riders at the end of each stage if you would prefer to camp or if rooms sell out. The race will transport one 30L bag for all riders and a tent and sleep system for those who choose to camp. Camping is included with registration.

Our intention is to ensure an even playing field, where riders cannot buy an easier experience. All riders are required to carry an emergency bivvy regardless of sleeping arrangements. You are also welcome to search for your own accommodations, but you will be responsible for travel to and from the stage start/end points.

Options if you don't see available accommodation:

- Arrange a room share with other riders.
- Book your own accommodation outside of reserved race hotels (keeping in mind you still need to arrive at the race hotel to finish your stage time and start the next stage).
- If you are traveling with a partner or someone who wants to explore the Westfjords in a car during the day, you can book a campervan rental and sleep there at the end of each stage. If you are a solo rider, you cannot accept outside support.

Booking Hotels

Race accommodations will be handled by Cycling Westfjords through our Corsa registration store.

To access the store:

1. Sign into your Corsa account
2. Go to My Page
3. Find the Arna Westfjords Way Challenge event, and you will find the link to the store on the left-hand side.

Accommodations are limited and must be paid in full when reserved. Room sharing is highly encouraged and we recommend purchasing a room and coordinating room-share with other riders through our Discord channel. It is also recommended to coordinate payment with other riders in advance of the race and Cycling Westfjords is not responsible for room sharing arrangements made or payment of room-shares.

If you are the owner of a reservation, you may cancel your reservation without penalty until May 22, 2026.
